In the 1920s, Danish architect, printer, and designer Knud V. Engelhardt (1882–1931) prepared a series of striking types for signage, including those for the street signs in Gentofte, north of Copenhagen. Swedish designer Mårten Thavenius built upon some of the structural elements from Engelhardt's work to arrive at Skilt Gothic. Jimmy & Zack, as the police explained, were last seen diving into a field of buttery quahogs. Five big juicy steaks sizzled in the pan while the sixty workmen left the quarry. A mad boxer shot quick, gloved jabs right to the jaw of his dizzy opponent. All of that jukebox music did puzzle those gentle visitors from a quaint valley town. Waltz, nymphs! for quick jigs vex Bud. Just work to improve basic techniques to maximize your new typing skills. When you and I go back to Juarez, Mexico, do we get to fly over picturesque Arizona?
